Vital statistics are the official information about important events in human life – births, marriages, and deaths – officially registered with the Government of Ontario. This research guide provides information on finding and using province of Ontario vital statistics records.

This guide provides information about the vital statistics records we hold, their contents, and how to access them. For more detailed information, and the resources mentioned in this guide, click here to access our Vital Statistics Webpage. Where do I find Vital Statistic records?

Vital Statistics records for Ontario births, marriages, and deaths (Official Ontario government registrations) are in two places: the Archives of Ontario and the Office of the Registrar General of Ontario.

1. Vital Statistics Records in the Archives of Ontario:

The Archives of Ontario holds indexes (where they exist) and registrations for:

- Births – from ca. 1830 to 1917, predominantly 1869 to 1917 (please note: delayed birth registrations also exist for a small number of pre-1869 births; these are available on www.familysearch.org).
- Marriages – from ca. 1801 to 1941
- Deaths – from 1869 to 1951
- Ontario overseas deaths, 1939 to 1947, documenting Ontarians who died outside of the country during those years

Please note: Until the early 1900's, many births, marriages and deaths were not registered with the provincial government. It was the responsibility of the people involved to register the event. Birth, marriages, and deaths not registered with the government may be recorded in church records. For more information on church records, click here to access Research Guide 204: Sources for Birth, Marriage and Death Records. To find this guide on our website, click on "Access Our Collections" from our main page, then click on "Research Guides and Tools".

You can access the Vital Statistics records at the Archives of Ontario in one of two ways:

1. On microfilm, in our Reading Room onsite and through our interloan program. To access the microfilm through our interloan program, ask your local public library to borrow the film from the Archives of Ontario. You may request up to three reels per researcher.
2. Online on www.ancestry.ca or www.familysearch.org.

For detailed information on where to access these records, including the years available in each format, please see TABLE 1 at the end of this guide.

2. Vital Statistics Records at the Office of the Registrar General of Ontario:

The Office of the Registrar general holds registrations for:

- Births – from 1918 to present
- Marriages – from 1942 to present
- Deaths – from 1952 to present

For information on how to access these records, their contact information is as follows:

What do I need to get started?

You need the name of the individual(s), the year the event took place in, and the county in which the event happened in. You will also need to consult TABLE 1 for information on where to access the records.

The records

Vital Statistic indexes on microfilm:

- Birth, death, and marriage registrations (except marriages before 1873): The indexes are available as microfilmed computer printouts. The computer printout Indexes are sorted in the following order:

Up to 1895 for births, 1910 for marriages, and 1925 for deaths, they are sorted:

- First by surname initial
- Then by year of event
- Lastly alphabetically, by the person’s full name.

After the above dates, they are sorted:

- First by year of event
- Then alphabetically, by the person’s full name.

The Indexes have the full name, date and place of the event, registration number and registration year.

To request the correct registration microfilm, you must have the registration number and registration year. For more information, click here to access Research Guide 203: Understanding the Vital Statistics Indexes. To find this guide on our website, click on “Access Our Collections” from our main page, then click on “Research Guides and Tools”.

- Marriages 1801 to June 1869: These registrations are recorded in the District Marriage Registers 1801-1857 or the County Marriage Registers 1858-June 1869. The registers and corresponding Indexes (where they exist) were transferred to microfilm together. There are published indexes in the Reading Room and in some public libraries.

- Marriages July 1869 to December 1872: There was NO computer printout Index for these records. Two indexes are available:
 - Published indexes, available in the Reading Room and in some public libraries
 - The Original (hand-written) microfilmed Indexes (MS 938 Reel 1 for July to December 1869; MS 941 Reel 1 for 1870 to 1872). Each Index is sorted in the following order:
 - First by year
 - Then within year, by surname initial
 - Then lastly grouped by county/ district.

You need the Liber (volume) and Folio (page) numbers listed to order the correct Registration microfilm.

- Registrations of overseas deaths, 1939 to 1947: There is no index by the Office of the Registrar General for these records.
 - A published index is available in our Reading Room and in some libraries: Bruce Thornby (ed. By Clifford Collins), Index to overseas deaths of Ontario servicemen and servicewomen, 1939 to 1947 (Toronto: Ontario Genealogical Society, 2006), 2 vol.

The following is what you can find within each type of vital statistic record:

BIRTHS: Birth registrations include the year of birth, name, gender, father's name, mother's maiden name, father's rank or occupation, signature and residence of informant (usually a relative), accoucheur's name (the person assisting with the birth), registration date, registrar's signature, county / district of registration (an exact city, town or township is normally not given in the records for the earliest years).

MARRIAGES (1801 to June 1869): There is a lot of variation in recorded information for marriages. It can be very limited in the early years (e.g., name of groom, bride, and clergy, location, date, and religious denomination of ceremony).

MARRIAGES (July 1869 and after): There is information about each person and about the marriage. About each person: Name, age, place of residence and birth, marital status (bachelor/ widower, spinster / widow), occupation, father's name, mother's maiden name, and religious denomination. About the marriage: Location and date marriage occurred, witnesses' names and residences, name of clergy conducting the marriage, whether marriage was by issuance of a marriage license or publication of banns and registration date.

DEATHS: The records may include the deceased person's name, age, sex, religious affiliation, rank or profession, birthplace, cause of death, name and description of informant, registrar's name, date registered and county/ district of registration. Registrations after 1907 may also include the place of burial and the name of the parents.

Please note that all the above requested information was not always recorded in the registration. The data in the records can be incomplete, entered on the wrong line or incorrect. If the computer printout Index (see above) does not list a registration, try consulting the Original Index for that year.
