

HERSTORIESCAFE

presents

Ontario Women's Activism at the Archives of Ontario

This panel discussion will explore how women's diverse experiences and grassroots activism have affected change in Ontario.

A panel of speakers will present and discuss a variety of narratives, giving insight into how women in this province have shaped & been shaped by their communities. Following the panel, participants will view archival records which illustrate the ongoing work of women's activism throughout Ontario's history.

This is a free event

Thursday, February 25th, 2016
Archives of Ontario (at York University)
134 Ian MacDonald Blvd, Toronto
2:00-4:30p.m.

Light refreshments will be provided prior to the talk. Please share widely with your networks
Please RSVP by emailing events@utschools.ca - space is limited!
For more information, go to: <http://herstoriescafe.com>