222 Research GuideMost Recent Update: March 2011

This research guide provides information about genealogy collections and published genealogies held by the Archives of Ontario.

THE RECORDS

Archives of Ontario Genealogical and Biographical Research Files: These files have information on a limited number of families in Ontario that Archives' staff have researched. The Archives no longer collects this information. A description for these records is available in our online Archives Descriptive Database; you will find the database in the "Start Your Research" section of our website.

Biography and Genealogy Index: This card catalogue is a name index to a variety of genealogical sources and biographical information on individuals and families. The Index has not been updated for many years. There are some explanatory cards (e.g., abbreviations used in the index) at the start of the index. This card catalogue is available on microfiche in the Reading Room.

Genealogies Collection: This collection has genealogies completed and donated to the Archives prior to the 1970s. Most of the genealogies are available on self-service microfilm in the Archives' Reading Room and through the Microfilm Interloan Service. A description for these records is available in the Archives Descriptive Database.

Published Genealogies: The Archives has a small number of published genealogies. For more information, search BiBLION, our online library card catalogue (you will find this database in the "Start Your Research" section of our website).

The Archives no longer collects published genealogies but you can find some in the Canadiana Collection, North York Central Library Branch, Toronto Public Library (5120 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ontario M2N 5N7, 416.395.5623). Local archives and libraries may also have published genealogies.
