

The Revised Statutes of Upper Canada, the Province of Canada and Ontario, 1831 to 1950

On Self-Service Microfilm

INTRODUCTION

This finding aid is a reel-by-reel listing of the Archives of Ontario's microfilm holdings of the revised (or consolidated) statutes of:

- Upper Canada (1729 to 1840)
- Province of Canada (1841 to 1866)
- Ontario (1867 to 1950)

What are Revised or Consolidated Statutes?

Sometimes the word "Consolidated" is used instead of "Revised", particularly in the earlier periods.

When the government makes changes to existing laws, often it will create "amending" Acts. For example, if the government wishes to make a few changes to the Environmental Protection Act, it will not rewrite the entire Act, or create a new Act, but will create an amending Act. The amending Act will add new sections or make changes to existing sections of the Environmental Protection Act.

Approximately every ten years the Ontario government publishes a complete revision of most public acts that incorporates all of these amendments and changes into a multi-volume set. These are the Revised Statutes of Ontario, or R.S.O.

For more information on how to research the Statutes, consult Research Guide 207 – Researching Ontario Bills and Statutes.

About this Microfilm

The B 92 series microfilm was microfilmed by Micromedia Ltd. from 1977-79 from originals supplied by Harvard Law School Library and York University Osgoode Hall Law Library. The Archives of Ontario has positive microfilm only.

The MS series of film was microfilmed by the Archives of Ontario in 1999.

Other major academic, public and law libraries in Canada may also hold the B 92 series microfilm, and possibly the original volumes. Check with your local library.

The various revisions and consolidations from 1792 to 1866 also have been microfiched by the Canadian Institute for Historical Microreproductions (CIHM) from different sources than those used by Micromedia Ltd. This microfiche has been digitized by CIHM's successor, Early Canadiana Online (ECO). These titles are available only to subscribers of ECO. Many academic and public libraries across the country subscribe to this service. Check with your local library, or click here to access the website for Early Canadiana Online.
