In this guide

This guide has information on how to understand the alphabetical indexes to vital statistics (birth, marriage and death records).

You will find these indexes and the corresponding birth, marriage and death registrations on microfilm in our reading room. Libraries that offer interloan services may also borrow the microfilm for you. For microfilm lists and instructions on how to find registrations on microfilm, click here to view our Ontario Vital statistics webpage. This webpage is also accessible from our website (ontario.ca/archives), by clicking on “Tracing Your Family History”.

Please note: Most of the registrations are also available online. You do not need to use the indexes to search registrations online. For information on digitized registrations and where to find them, click here to view our Ontario Vital statistics webpage.

What is in the indexes?

The alphabetical indexes were created starting in the late 1950’s. They replaced previous handwritten original indexes. The format of the indexes varied over time, but the fields remained the same.

Below is an explanation of the main fields in the indexes and whether they are required to find the registration.

Note*: The number column corresponds with the numbers on the examples of the index pages at the end of this guide.

Number*	Field Title	Explanation	Required to find registration?
1	NAME	This is the name of the person on the registration, copied from the original registration. Only the	Yes , you need this information name of the child (for a birth), the bride and groom, and the deceased were indexed. Women remarrying were indexed under their previous married surname. In addition, some marriage indexes included the maiden name of women who were re-marrying.	to find the registration.

2	PLACE OF EVENT	This is the town or township where the event was registered. For rural births and deaths, this may differ from where the actual event took place.	You may need this information to find the registration
3	DATE OF EVENT	The usual format is month, day and year. For example, 06 12 01 equals June 12 th 1901. Marriages for 1873-1881 were indexed with single digit for the months and O , N , and D for October , November and December .	You may need this information to find the registration
4	REGISTRATION NUMBER	This is the unique numbered given to each registration.	Yes , you need this information to find the registration.
